REVISION EYEWEAR APPOINTS LT. GEN. PHILIP KENSINGER (US ARMY RET) TO ADVISORY BOARD

WILLISTON, VT, May 30, 2006 – Revision Eyewear, developers of purpose-built eyewear for the military worldwide, is proud to announce that Lt. Gen. Philip Kensinger (US Army Ret.) has joined the Company as a consultant and Advisory Board member.

With a military career that encompassed over 35 years of service in the US Army, General Kensinger retired in February 2006 as the Commanding General of the U.S. Army Special Operations Command located at Fort Bragg, North Carolina. Throughout his career, General Kensinger served in various command and staff positions within Special Operations. His General Officer assignments included: Commanding General Special Operations Command - Central; Deputy Commanding General and Chief of Staff of the US Army Special Operations Command; Commanding General US Army South at Fort Clayton, Panama and Fort Buchanan, Puerto Rico; and Deputy, G3/5/7, US Army Staff. General Kensinger received his BS and commission as a 2nd Lieutenant of Infantry from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point in 1970. He earned a Master's degree from Louisiana State University and A&M College in 1980. He has received the Distinguished Service Medal, Defense Superior Service Medal, and Legion of Merit among many other awards and decorations.

“General Kensinger brings a wealth of military and international experience to Revision,” Jonathan Blanshay, President of Revision Eyewear commented. “As a new member on our Advisory Board, he will be advising on future product development as well as business development initiatives within the US DoD market. It is an honor to have Gen.
