REVISION EYEWEAR LAUNCHES NEW PRODUCT FOR ASIAN MILITARY MARKET: THE ASIAN LOCUST™ GOGGLE

Essex Junction, VT, USA (March 11, 2009) – Revision Eyewear, leading manufacturer of ballistic protective eyewear worldwide, meets the demands of Asia's military forces with the Asian Locust Goggle, specifically engineered for perfect fit and maximum comfort with the Asian facial profile. Designed as the ultimate protective eyewear, the Asian Locust builds upon the Desert Locust® Goggle's unmatched ability to protect soldier's eyes, offering industry-leading ballistics, flawless optics, perfect facial seal and unparalleled field-of-view for the Asian soldier.

"With an international business committed to meeting the specific needs of its customers through innovative, custom eyewear solutions, Revision is proud to deliver the Asian Locust Goggle," says Alex Hooper, Revision Eyewear's Vice-President of International Sales. "The Asian face shape demands a shallower frame curvature and a wider nose bridge than traditional goggles. The Asian Locust masters these design subtleties providing improved facial seal, increased comfort and enhanced environmental protection."

Like its cousin, the Desert Locust Goggle, the Asian Locust features interchangeable optical-grade polycarbonate lenses in a variety of tints, all of which offer 100% UV protection. For superior defense against fogging and scratching, all lenses are high-performance OcuMax™ coated while the frame's top, bottom and lateral filtered air vents allow for constant airflow.

The goggle's lightweight, flexible, and virtually indestructible frame will not interfere with weapon sights, binoculars, or night vision systems and an optional Rx Carrier is available for those with prescription needs. The highly anticipated Asian Locust Goggle will be available for distribution in June 2009.
