REVISION WOLFSPIDER™ TACTICAL GOGGLE OFFERS LOW PROFILE PERFORMANCE AND LONG-WEAR COMFORT

Essex Junction, VT, USA (January 11, 2010) – Revision, leading developer of ballistic protective eyewear for military and law enforcement forces worldwide, introduces the Wolfspider Tactical Goggle System. Precision engineered for performance, the Revision Wolfspider Goggle streamlines size, weight and design for superior comfort and equipment compatibility. It provides an uncompromised field-of-view, best-in-class ballistic protection and dual-material frame technology for comfortable, extended wearability.

For the system's launch a panel of 45 tactical officers from across the country subjected the Wolfspider Goggle to stringent field testing. Of the goggle's compact design one tactical officer explains, "Very well designed, in a sleek package. Offered the protection and performance of a much larger system with the feel of a pair of sunglasses."

The system features flawless optics, OcuMax® coated interchangeable lenses for fog-free vision, and is 100% UV protective for military, tactical and recreational performance. The three-lens Deluxe Kit retails for $179.99 MSRP.

High impact system exceeds military ballistic impact requirements for goggles: MIL-DTL-43511D clause 3.5.10 and EN 166

Dual-material frame technology offers durable high impact protection and flexibility for extreme comfort

Compact, low profile design with unrestricted field-of-view for enhanced war-fighting capabilities

Flawless optics ensure clear and accurate vision for peak performance

High performance OcuMax® coating protects against fogging and scratching

Easily interchangeable lenses for various light conditions provide 100% UV-A-B-C protection
